crutch and cane the sufferer hobbles painfully about.

Rheumatism can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This great blood purifying medicine eliminates the poisons which cause the disease. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and so increases the purity and abundance of the blood supply, thus giving vigor and vitality to all organs of the body which depend for their health on plenty of pure blood. It builds up the body with firm flesh instead of flabby fat. The "Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

nor narcotics.

"I had been troubled with rheumatism for swelve years, so bad at times I could not leave my bed," writes Mr. R. J. McKnight, of Cades, Williamsburg Co., S. C. "I was badly cripled. Tried many doctors, and two of them gave me up to die. Mone of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips and legs (and at times in my head), would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took frour vials of the 'Pellets,' and to-day my health is good after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

BITTER WORDS FOR FRYE. Senator Frye, the presiding officer of the Senate, baying referred to Mr. Turner's speech against the bounty in the ship subsidy bill as "very amusing," and made the statement that those who had spoken in opposition to the bill showed their "dense ignorance," Mr. Turner on Saturday stated in the Senate that Mr. Frye had a victous job on his conscience and could not afford to laugh at anybody. The fact that he had laughed, he said showed that he (Mr. Frys) would laugh in a graveyard at midnight. He argued that the man who had charge of a crime and was pushing a siral had a room to laugh stand had. or room to laugh at anybody. He called Mr. Frye "a gudgeon smelling around in the mud for food and accepting the decayed with the good." Mr. Frye was driven from the chamber in his anger and remained away during the remainder of Mr. Turnarle during the remainder of Mr. Turner's

Mr. Frye called the bill up at the close of morning business.

Mr. Turner arose and referred meaningly to Mr. Frye's statements about those Senators who had spoken against

"Ine Senator from Maine," said he, "looks down from his pedestal with wisdom and scorns those less swell needed than himself. He refers to my speech as 'amusing,' and later referred to the 'ignorance' of other Senators. "Now, when a man like the Senator from Maine, with such a victors j b on is hands, and his conscience, se this, on smile at the arguments off-red against the bounty steal, he could smile et this crime exected into law that he thinks he can trample on those who op pose it. I don's think he has any room o smile at anyone, not so long as be has charge of the worst attempt at looting the Treasury ever made on this floor. He ought to be quiet and not "The Secator from Maine bas four errors to my one in his speech and as ne claims that the 'most profound ignorance' is exhibited on this side of the chamber, so I want to prove to him hat he is not so wise as he deems him-

Mr. Furner then went through Mr. Frye's speech and discovered many errors and misstatements. He proved bat Mr. Frye was over $3,000,000 out ike a gudgeon smelling around in the mud for food to swell up his in quitous measure, has swallowed everything in aght, forgetting to sort the decayed from the good."

"I deny that," said Mr. Frye.

"I knew that the cenator would deny it," said Mr. Turner. "He decise that white is white. He expects to pass this bill on superior assumptions and does not see that the ignorant men in the bamber might desire facts.

"Would not the Senstor admit that I would admit anything that was true," "If the Senator had made an error he would not admit it," replied Mr. Tur-ner. 'He is so exalted and we are so ignorant that we fail to appreciate his hop logic."

Here Mr. Spooner held a brief con-erence with Mr Frye, who was rapidly sponsor of the bill left be chamber.

Mr. Turner continued his examination of Mr. Frye's speech, and tore it

In referring to Mr. Frye's statement that the subsidy bill was in the interests of the farme s, Mr. Turner denied this

"The foundation of the party of the Senator from Maine," said be, "is based upon the wealthy corporations, and these alone are catered to. No matter how big the steal, if these corporations come to this Capitol they can have it put through."

In showing the false figures given in two tables, Mr. Turner exhibited great

"My God!" he said, "if I were to have made such a muddle in my speech, I would never get up on the floor of this Senate and taunt another man. I would be ashamed of myself. I wish the Senator from Maine would come back into the chamber, as I want him to hear what I have to say about him."

Mr. Rawlins suggested the absence of a quorum, and the roll was called. Mr. Frye did not appear.

Mr. Turner said that the bill was too rotten for description.

rotten for description. "If it is republican statesmanship to block all legislation while the Tressury is looted by a pack of robbers," sold be, "it is time that the people knew it, We propose to debate this bill for a long time yet—long enough to kill the republican party.
